

Life– Explore the Possibilities

A permanent solution
For a temporary problem
There will be no ablution
All the faces will be solemn
Your mind it is not right
You are not doing them a favor
Taking your life tonight
Will haunt your family forever
Your future holds a beautiful life
If you push the thoughts away
No more of the worries, pain, or strife
If you save yourself today
Life is about exploring possibilities
You cannot do that from a grave
Let me help you through this rough time please
I know you can be that brave
